To whom it may concern,

I think it is about time that this gets settled for the good of the country and all it's citizens. I feel that who ever it is that is trying to do this to a good and inovative country is just plain stupid. Without Microsoft I hat to think where we would be.It is a terriable thing to think that someone wants to destroy a good thing.Just because they have some smart inovative people that are capable of doing such things should make us proud not want to destroy what is good.

Sincerely

Jean N. Smith
